

This market will resolve to "Something" if any of the following conditions are met between market creation and March 31, 2026, 11:59 PM ET:

- Ilhan Omar town hall attack confirmed to be staged
- Ilhan Omar resigns
- Ilhan Omar federally charged

Otherwise, this market will resolve to "Nothing".

1. Ilhan Omar town hall attack confirmed to be staged

This market will resolve to "Something" if it is widely and credibly confirmed that the January 27, 2026 incident in which Rep. Ilhan Omar was sprayed with a liquid at a Minneapolis town hall was staged, pre-arranged, orchestrated, fake, or otherwise not a genuine adversarial attack — including if broad consensus from credible reporting, or official statements (e.g., from law enforcement, U.S. government, or equivalent credible sources), confirms it was staged or pre-arranged during this market's above-specified time frame.

Statements from the U.S. government, law enforcement agencies, or major credible news organizations concluding that the incident was staged or pre-arranged will qualify for a "Something" resolution.

2. Ilhan Omar resigns

This market will resolve to "Something" if Ilhan Omar announces she has resigned, will resign, or will not run for re-election for United States Representative from Minnesota during this market's above-specified time frame

If it becomes impossible for Ilhan Omar to resign or to announce her resignation (e.g., due to her removal from office by other means, etc.), this will not count.

For this market to resolve to "Something," it is only necessary that Ilhan Omar announce that she has resigned or will resign or will not run for re-election. Whether she actually resigns will have no bearing on the resolution of this market.

The primary resolution source for this market will be official information from the US federal government or the government of Minnesota; however, a consensus of credible reporting will also be used.

3. Ilhan Omar federally charged

This market will resolve to "Something" if the United States federal government formally charges or announces a criminal indictment of Ilhan Omar during this market's above-specified time frame

For the purposes of this market, the District of Columbia and any county, municipality, or other subdivision of a State shall be included within the definition of a State.

The primary resolution source for this market will be official information from US governmental sources; however, a wide consensus of credible reporting will also be used.
